TOMBSTONE CAFÉ

SINCE 2014

Can you imagine eating your meals chuck wagon style? Well, that's just what the cowboys did a long time ago here at the Terry Bison Ranch. At one time the Tombstone Café was used as a cook shack for the cowboys at the 7XL stables. Since 1992, it has been an office for Dan Thiel, the main kitchen for the Chuck Wagon Dinner, The Barbed Wire Breakfast, and an Antique Photo Studio. In 2014, Nichelle opened the Tombstone Café to serve some home cooked breakfast and refreshing drinks to our guests here at the Terry Bison Ranch. Her "from scratch" meals are delicious and sure to bring back memories of Grandma's kitchen. The atmosphere at the Tombstone is down home and nostalgic. If you loved your meal be sure to let Nichelle know how grateful we are to have her cooking us up some memories!

WE ENJOYED HAVING YOU AND HOPE TO
SEE YOU BACK REAL
SOON!!
